Smiths Detection Training

Training Products

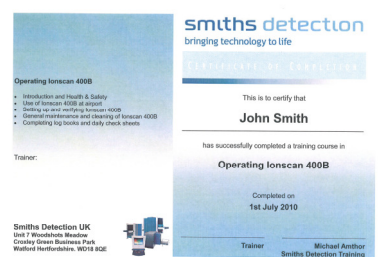

Smiths Detection can offer you a great variety of training products.

If you are looking for training solutions for our DfT approved equipment (X-Ray, Metal Detection or Trace Detection) or if you want to fulfil legal requirements (for example X-Ray operator training and the NXCT), Smiths Detection is your training partner.

Certificate and Feedback

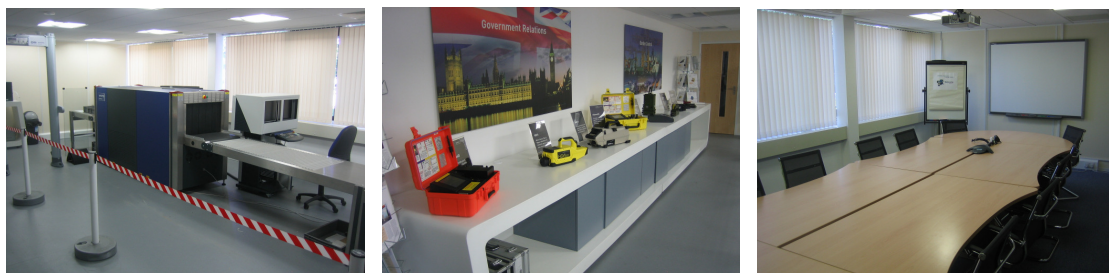

At the end of a training course, the participants receive a certificate informing of the contents and the duration of the training. In return, we ask the participants to evaluate our work.

As a company certified according to ISO 9001, we set great values upon the customer satisfaction and hence we want to permanently optimise our courses.

Smiths Detection Training Centre

We can deliver our training in our own training centre or in our customer's premises.
