Training Products

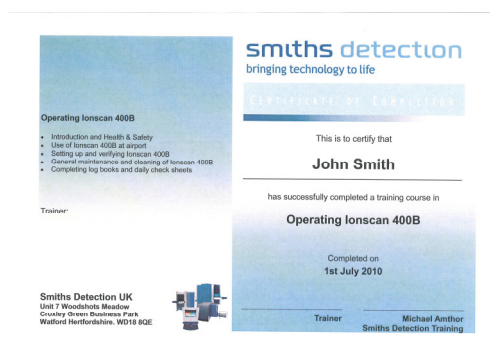

Smiths Detection offers you a great variety of training products.

If you are looking for training solutions for our DfT approved equipment Smiths Detection is your training partner.

Certificate and Feedback

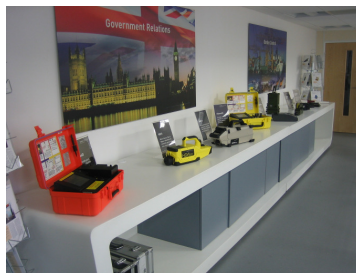

At the end of a training course, the participants receive a certificate informing on content and duration of the training course. In return, we ask the participants to evaluate our work.

As a company certified according to ISO 9001, we set great values upon the customer satisfaction and hence we want to permanently optimise our courses.

Smiths Detection Training Centre

We can deliver training in our training centre or in our customer's premises.
